Model 3500 Control Software

The Model 3500 is supplied with optional Windows control software. This software controls all features of the amplifier via a USB port (cable included).

The program also enables the storage of an unlimited number of 16-Channel parameter files, as well as provides a real-time notepad that logs changes in parameter settings or experimenter-added notations.